COMPETITION RULES & GUIDELINES

Please read all instructions carefully and follow them throughout the competition.

1. Entry Timing

- Lab entry will start at 9:15 AM and close at 9:35 AM sharp.
- No one will be allowed to enter before 9:15 AM or after 9:35 AM. Please arrive on time; no exceptions will be made.

2. Bring Your Own Equipment

Make sure you bring everything you need for the competition, including:

- Laptop
- Mouse
- Headphones
- Extension cords and any other necessary accessories

University PCs: University computers will only be provided to participants who requested a system in advance. No one else will be provided with a university PC, so please come prepared.

3. Venue Rules & Discipline

- The entire team is not allowed to leave the venue together. At least one team member must always remain at your assigned spot.
- You are solely responsible for your personal belongings and equipment.
- Any act of violence, misconduct, or violation of discipline will not be tolerated. There will be no second warning for any violation.

4. Breaks

Break timings have not yet been finalized. The organizers will announce the designated break schedule. Please wait for the official announcement and follow the provided timings.

5. Development Time & Project Submission

- Development time will be 6 hours and 45 minutes.
- Each team must upload and provide a live link to its project for judging.
- No code updates or modifications will be allowed after 4:00 PM.
- Presentations will begin after the development period ends.
- Presentation slots will be shared after development time.
- The judges' decision will be final.

6. Food & Drinks

- Food and eating inside the labs are not allowed.
- Drinks are also not permitted inside the labs.
- You may keep personal water with you as needed.

7. Clarifications & Communication

Please do not make assumptions. If you have any confusion about the rules, equipment, submissions, or any other matter, contact the organizers and ask for clarification beforehand. This will help avoid misunderstandings and unnecessary issues during the competition.

Please cooperate with the organizers, follow all instructions, and help ensure a smooth and fair competition for everyone.

Be punctual, stay disciplined, and make the most of the competition. Best of luck to all teams!